SCHOOL ABSENCE IN RELATION TO FAMILY HOLIDAYS

As a result of a change in guidance to schools, pupil's absence in relation to family holidays during term time must now be recorded as unauthorised absence.

The schools Governing Body have decided that following these guidelines we will not be able to authorise annual holiday absence unless there are very particular family circumstances e.g. when the well-being of the family is dependant on such leave being granted following a tragedy.

If you choose to take your family holiday during term time, without a very particular family circumstance, the absence will be unauthorised and referred to the Education Welfare Service. You may be liable to a fixed penalty fine issued by the Education Welfare Service. You will be fined if you take your child out of school during SATs week.

If you require more information on this matter please contact the school office. DATED April 2024
